Vintage may vary without notice.

According to the Aztec legend, Mayahuel, goddess of agave, gave birth to four hundred rabbits.

These cheeky little rabbits loved to let their ears down and drink pulque, the first form of tequila.

They lived a rich life; drinking, partying and getting into all sorts of mischief. In the process, they developed four hundred unique drinking personalities.

Just like Maya's rabbits, here at Four Hundred we're all about leaning into the good times with great friends, and embracing the fun that comes with a tequila session.
